Sixbert SANGWA April 17, 2024

This article explores the challenges Christians face on their journey to Heaven, emphasizing the importance of discerning truth from deceit. It delves into Satan's strategies such as distorting truth, controlling Christian education, and the allure of false teachers. Encouraging vigilance and reliance on the Holy Spirit and the Bible, it stresses personal responsibility in staying true to Christ's teachings. Believers are reminded of their accountability in navigating spiritual challenges and urged to remain steadfast amidst the rise of false doctrines.

The journey to Heaven, as depicted in the teachings of Christianity, is a challenging one, filled with obstacles and deceptions designed to lead believers astray. With the rise of new age philosophies, relativistic ideologies, and a wave of pluralism, some have been led to believe that various faiths can all lead to heaven. However, this is far from the truth as presented in the Bible. As Christians, we must remain vigilant against the deceit that Satan utilizes to undermine the Church and divert believers from the path to Heaven. In this post, we will explore only a few of the numerous strategies employed by Satan, the great deceiver, and how to distinguish truth from deceit.

The Distorted Truth

One of Satan's most devious strategies is the distortion of the truth. He manipulates the Word of God, twisting it to serve his misleading narrative. Many churches, both new and old, have succumbed to heretical doctrines and teachings, leading their congregations astray. Some mega churches, such as Jehovah's Witnesses, Seventh-day Adventist and Mammons, were established by Freemasons with the aim of destroying Christianity from within (It is not my intention to offend adherents of other religions). They adopted distorted interpretations of the Scriptures and propagated doctrines that were far removed from the essential teachings of Christ.

Some emerging churches either inherited these same heretical doctrines or were established by ministers empowered by Satan himself, while others simply follow worldly trends or are led by self-enrichment ministers with worldly ambitions. These churches often prioritize worldly prosperity over spiritual growth, leading their congregations further away from the path of righteousness. As stated in 2 Corinthians 11:14, "Satan himself masquerades as an angel of light", cautioning us to be wary of churches and preachers that may seem righteous but are, in reality, spreading distorted truths.

Bible Schools with Ulterior Motives

Another tactic employed by Satan is the establishment of Bible schools with the aim of controlling Christian education. These institutions, often established by Freemasons and controlled by Illuminati with their counterfeit ideologies, are used to disseminate heretical teachings. Many unsuspecting Christians have been led astray by these schools, unknowingly absorbing teachings that diverge from the truth.

In line with Illuminati goals, they control global education, including theological education, while many new schools unknowingly follow the global trends. These institutions introduce subtle distortions and reinterpretations of the Scriptures, gradually steering their students away from the truth. According to Hosea 4:6, "My people are destroyed for lack of knowledge". It is therefore vital for believers to diligently seek the truth and gain knowledge from reputable and biblically sound sources.

The Lure of False Teachers and Prophets

The emergence of false teachers and prophets is a growing concern. As we approach the end times prophesied in the Bible, coming across a preacher with sound doctrine is becoming increasingly rare. This state of heresy and apostasy precedes the rise of the Antichrist, indicating that we are standing at the eve of the Rapture.

Many genuine followers have fallen into the trap of following heretical preachers who promise worldly prosperity and perform false miracles. These false teachers use their charisma and manipulative tactics to draw in the unsuspecting, leading them away from the path to Heaven. Matthew

7:15 warns us, "Beware of false prophets, who come to you in sheep's clothing but inwardly are ravenous wolves". This emphasizes the importance of discernment and vigilance in our faith journey. But who will heed the counsel?

The Consequences of Following False Teachers

It's unfortunate but true that those who have been led astray by false teachers, despite having been given the Holy Spirit as a guide and the Bible as their source of truth, face grave consequences. As stated in Romans 14:12 "So then, each of us will give an account of himself to God." This clearly demonstrates that every believer is responsible for their faith.

Righteousness is only achieved through faith in Christ. God does not make someone righteous because they were led astray by someone else. Our salvation is a personal responsibility, and if we reject the guidance of the Holy Spirit and prefer a different source of light, we are accountable for our choices. If we choose the pleasures of the world and follow those who promise prosperity through deceptive means such as false miracles, prophecy, and healing, we risk our salvation. The Bible cautions us to be careful, to be as wise as serpents amidst these temptations. It forewarns us of the rise of heresy, apostasy, and false preachers, urging us to remain vigilant in our faith.

Conclusion

As Christians, we have been given the tools - the Holy Spirit and the Bible - to guide us. But, these tools are only effective if we actively use them to discern truth from deception. As Mark 8:34 states, "Then he called the crowd to him along with his disciples and said: 'Whoever wants to be my disciple must deny themselves and take up their cross and follow me.'" This demonstrates why many people fall into the trap.

We bear the responsibility to heed the Bible's warnings about the rise of heresy, apostasy, and false preachers, and strive to stay on the path to Heaven. Remember, being led astray by false teachers does not absolve us of our sins. We are accountable for our choices.

Let us remain vigilant and steadfast in our faith, always watchful for the traps of Satan, and cling to the truth of God's Word. In these challenging times, let us remember the words of Joshua 1:9, "Have I not commanded you? Be strong and courageous. Do not be afraid; do not be discouraged, for the LORD your God will be with you wherever you go."
